TOUCHED (PAPERBACK)

Tate Publishing Company, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 210 x 133 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Touched deals with real issues that families around the world face, i.e. domestic violence, child molestation and racism. The book offers hope for the victims and encourages them to tell of their situation. A secret can no longer harm you once it is no longer a secret. The book encourages forgiveness and offers hope. Matthew Allen Green was molested by his stepfather. The stepfather told him never to tell anyone and Mat didn't and would not have even if he had not been warned. The shame and humiliation caused him to close off his heart and to stop caring about anyone but himself. He knew his mother would not believe him for his stepfather had pulled the family back from almost living on the street after Mat's father died. Mat felt there was no one he could have turned too and when the abuse stopped just as suddenly as it had started, Mat didn't ask any questions and didn't care why. But he should have. Mat left home and never looked back. He went to medical school and has been a doctor five days. Mat's sister Christina, like Mat, also knew they could not turn to anyone. Their stepfather, Wayne, was rich and powerful and in a small town, a man like that could make you or break you. Chris was ten years older than Mat and she had always been the one to take care of him in their father's absence. This time would be no different. Chris was smart enough to know that she could not support the two of them if they ran away and knowing they would end up on...
