Finish Forty and Home: The Untold World War II Story of B-24s in the Pacific

By Phil Searce

University of North Texas Press. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 408 pages. Dimensions: 8.9in. x 6.0in. x 1.1in. A Main Selection of the MilitaryHistory Book Club. During the early years of World War II in the Pacific theatre, against overwhelming odds, young American airmen flew the longest and most perilous bombing missions of the war. They faced determined Japanese fighters without fighter escort, relentless anti-aircraft fire with no deviations from target, and thousands of miles of over-water flying with no alternative landing sites. Finish Forty and Home, by Phil Searce, is the true story of the men and missions of the 11th Bombardment Group as it fought alone and unheralded in the South Central Pacific, while America had its eyes on the war in Europe. The book opens with Sgt. Herman Searce, the authors father, lying about his age to join the Army Air Corps at 16. The narrative follows Searce through training and into combat with his new crewmates, including pilot Lt. Joe Deasy, whose last-minute transfer from training duty thrusts the new crew into the squadron commanders role. After bombing Nauru, the squadron moves on to bomb Wake Island, Tarawa, and finally Iwo Jima. These missions bring American forces...
